

AN AMERICAN TAIL FIEVEL GOES WEST™

A COLORING BOOK

AN AMERICAN TAIL FIEVEL GOES WEST™

Go West, Young Mouse

A COLORING BOOK

Copyright © 1991

Universal City Studios, Inc. & Amblin Entertainment, Inc.
All rights reserved. AN AMERICAN TAIL: FIEVEL GOES WEST and AN AMERICAN TAIL: FIEVEL GOES WEST logo are trademarks of Universal City Studios, Inc. & Amblin Entertainment, Inc.

Published by Grosset & Dunlap, Inc.,
a member of The Putnam & Grosset Book Group, New York.
Published simultaneously in Canada. Printed in the U.S.A.
ISBN 0-448-40244-0 A B C D E F G H I J

Publishers • Grosset & Dunlap • New York

Fievel Mousekewitz dreams of being a real Western hero. Just like...

Wylie Burp, sheriff of Green River.

But Fievel is just a little mouse living in New York City, playing games with his friend Tiger the cat.

“Fievel!” calls Mama.
It is dinnertime at the Mousekewitz home.

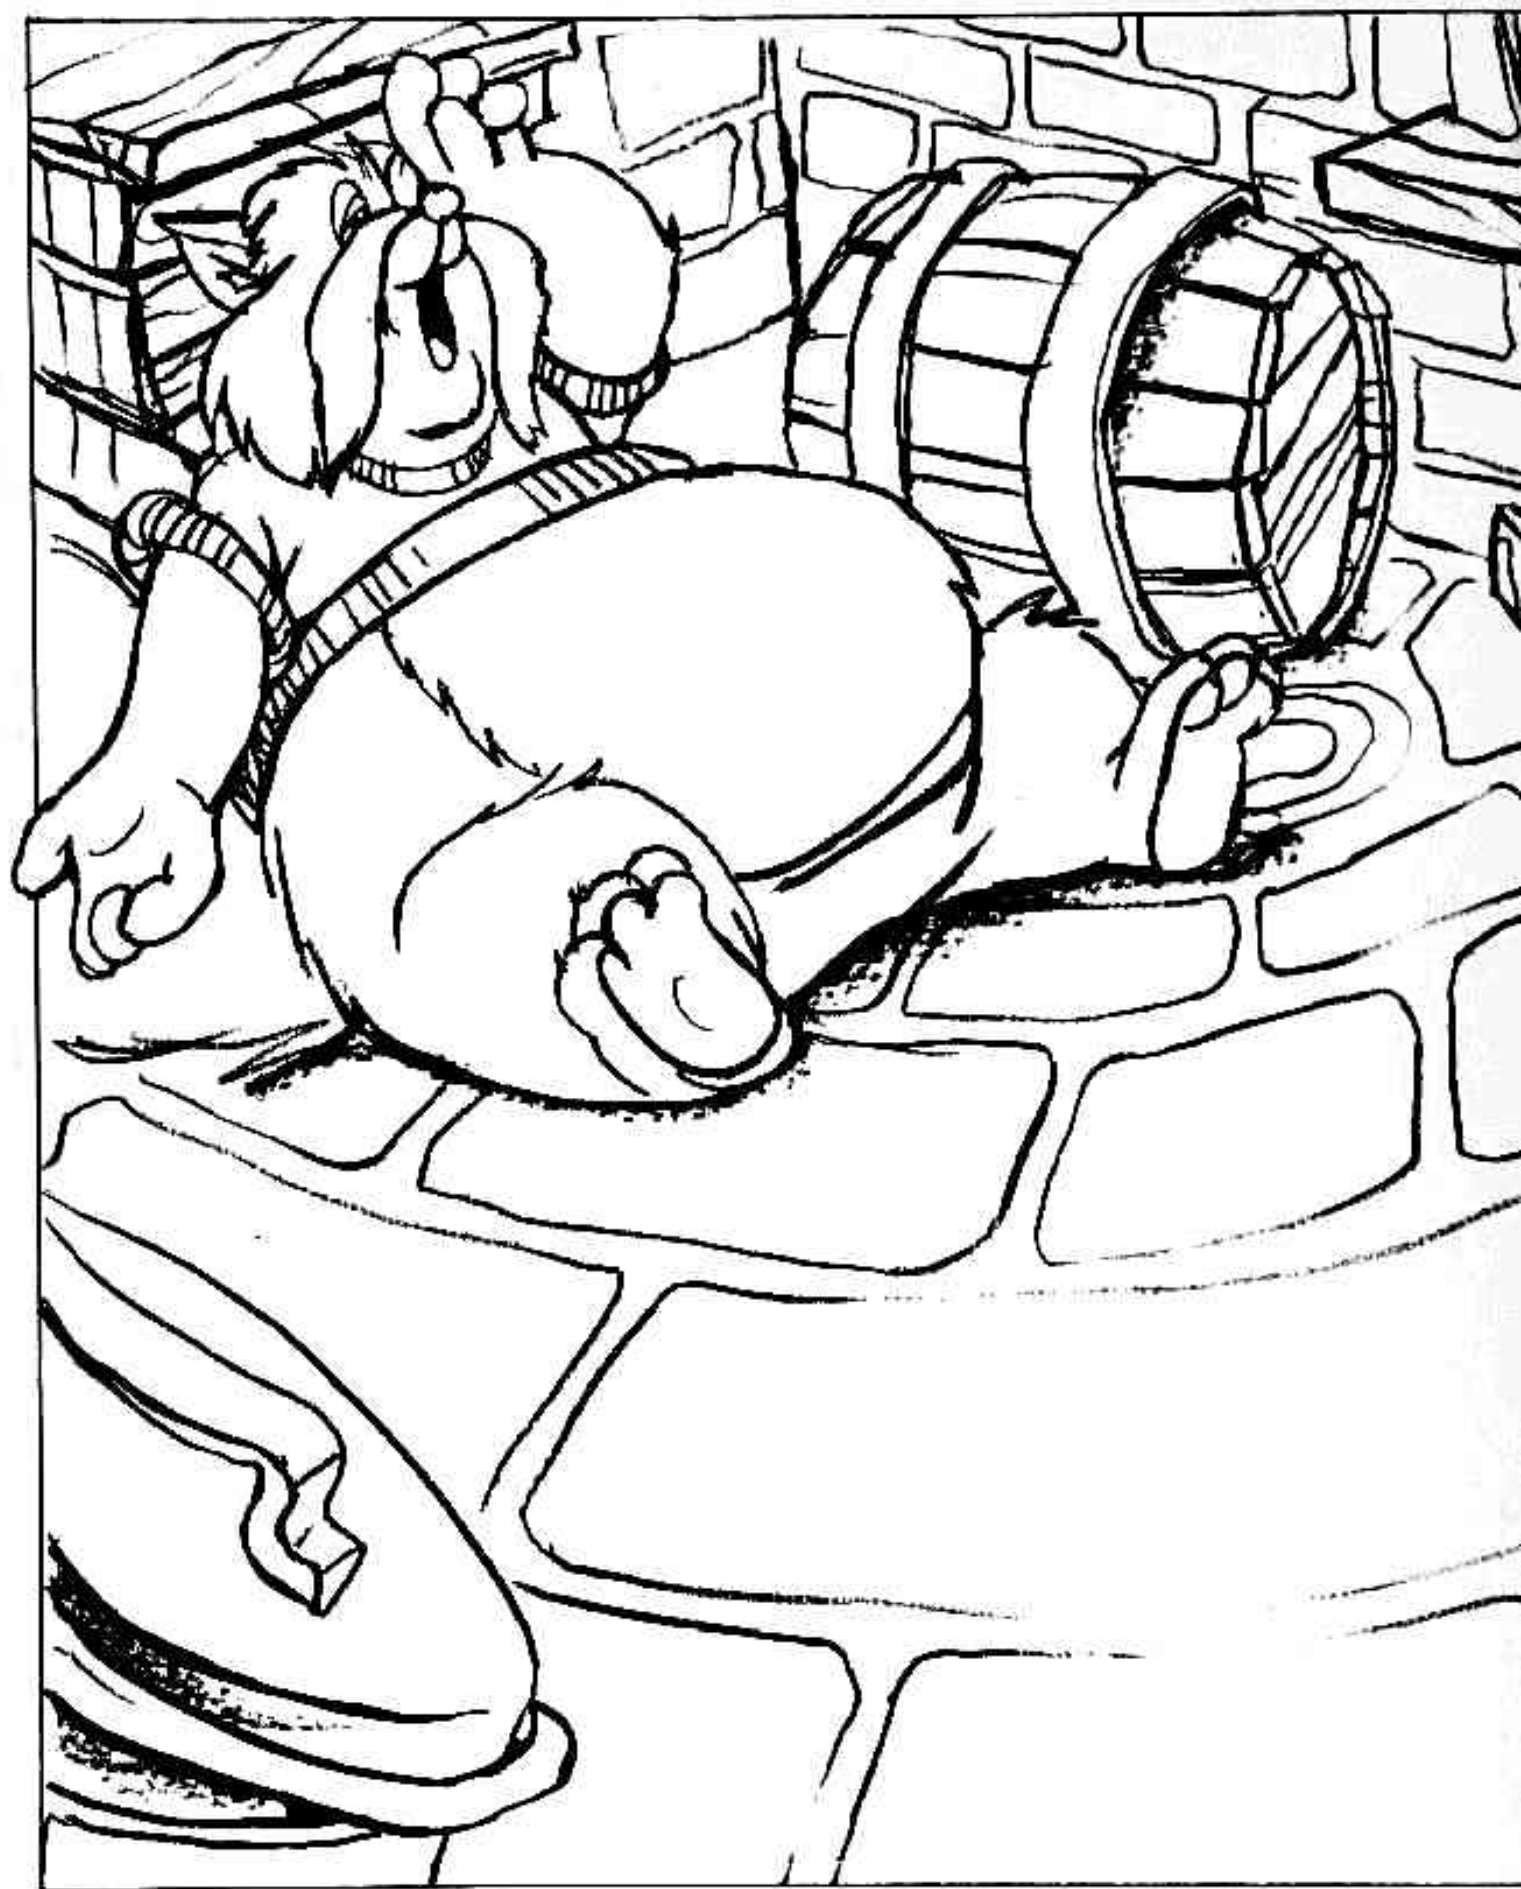

"Howdy, folks," says Fievel. "I'm here to rustle me up some grub!"

Suddenly an alarm blasts.

It's a cat attack!

Tiger runs to help the mice. But he sees a scary-looking spider named Chula and faints on the spot!

“Run! Run!” shout all the mice.

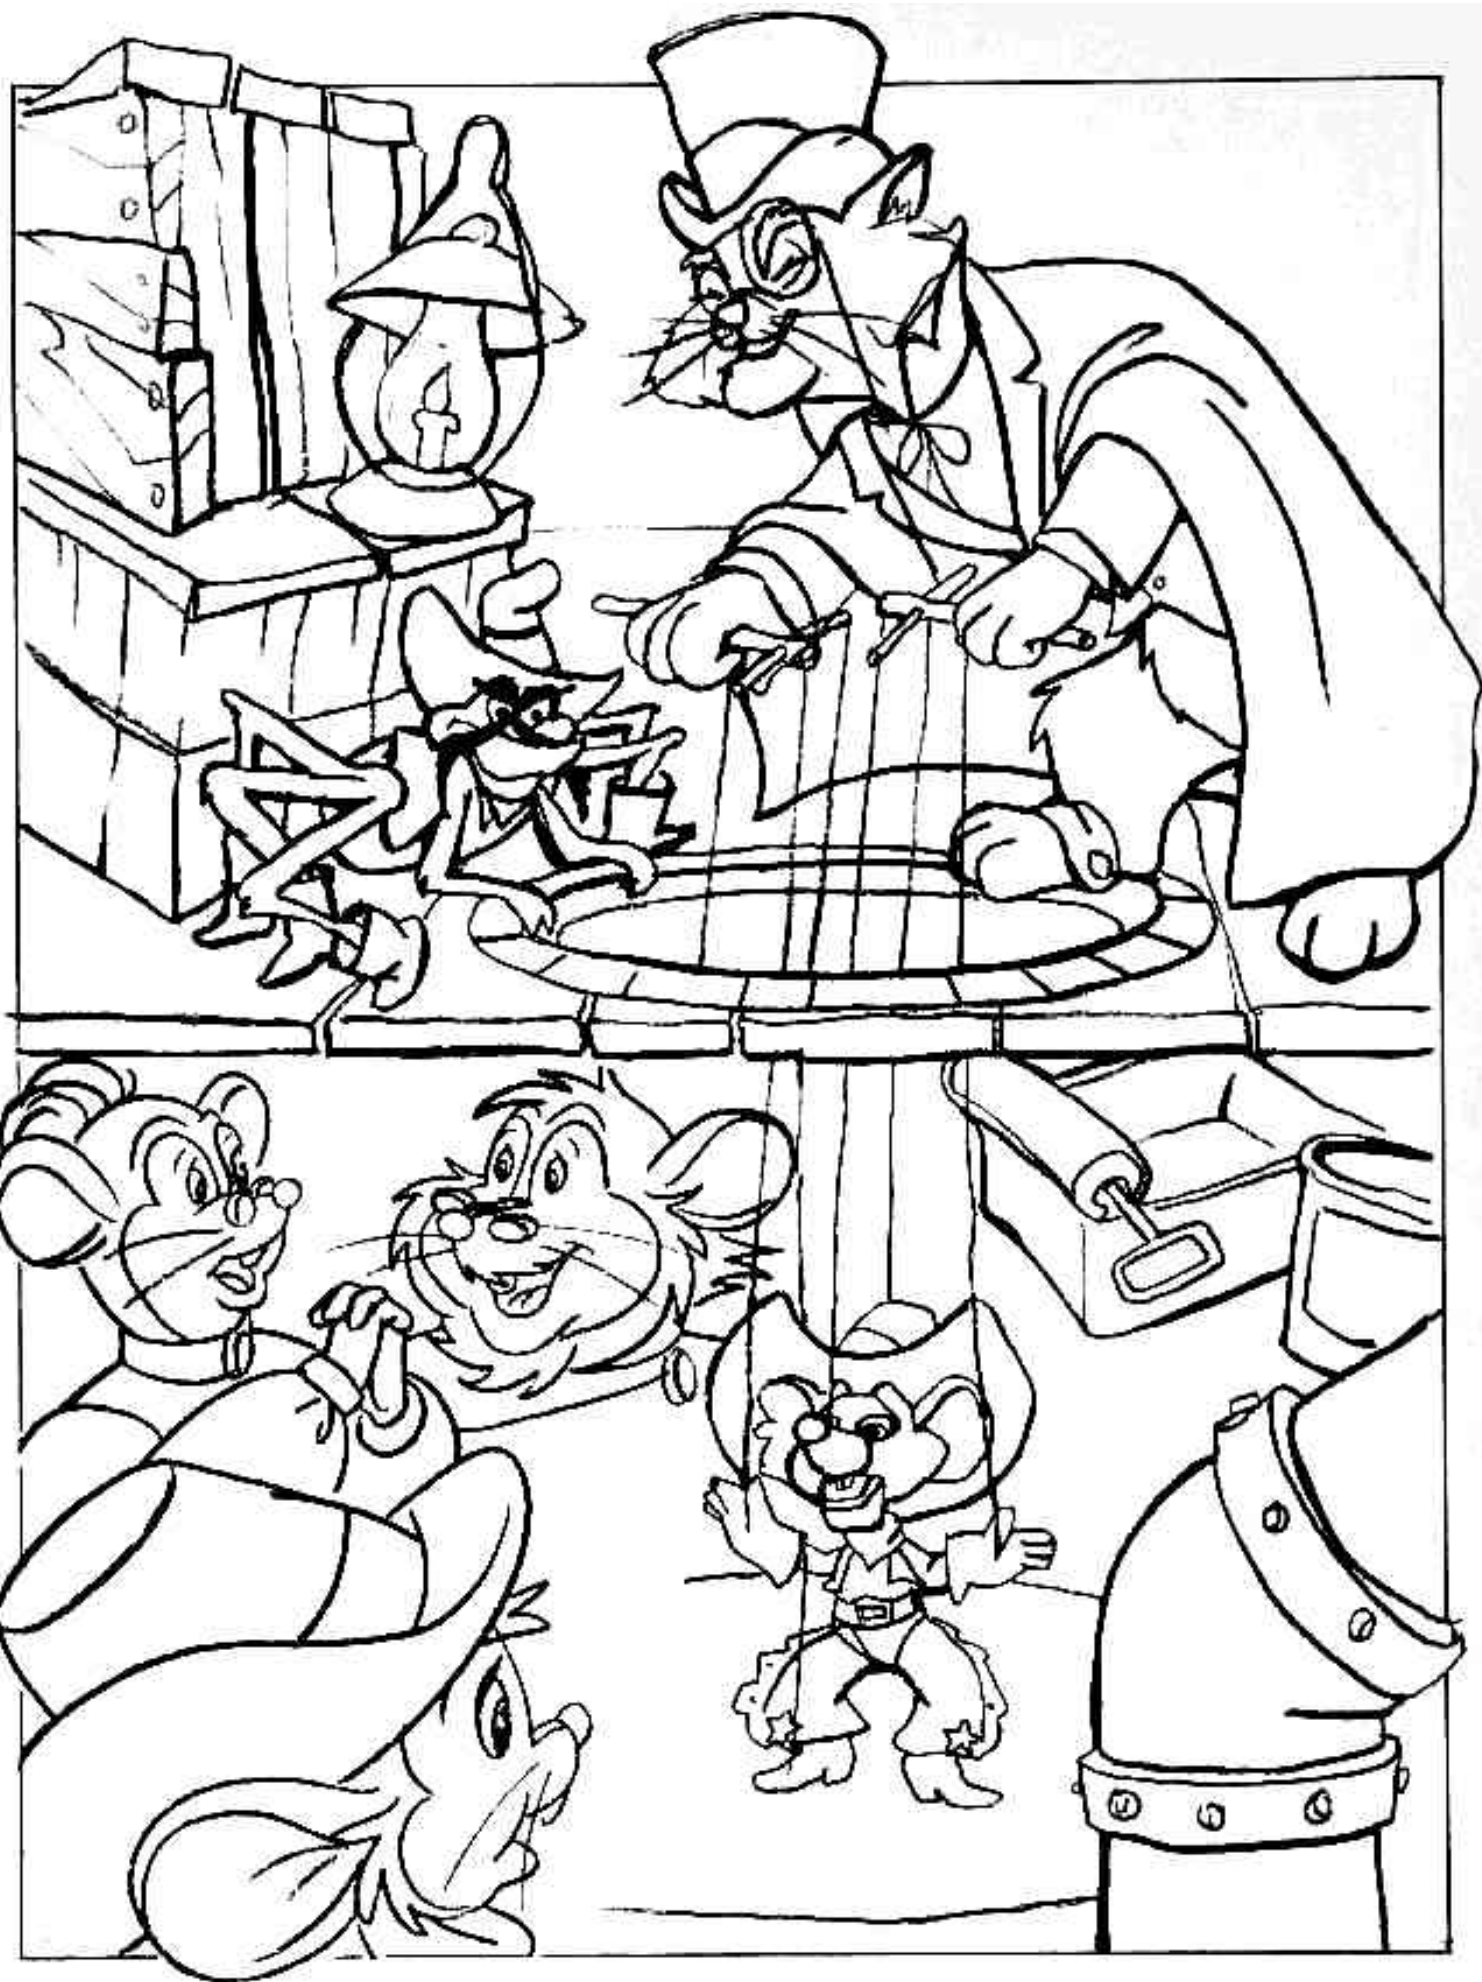

Fievel and his family try to escape.

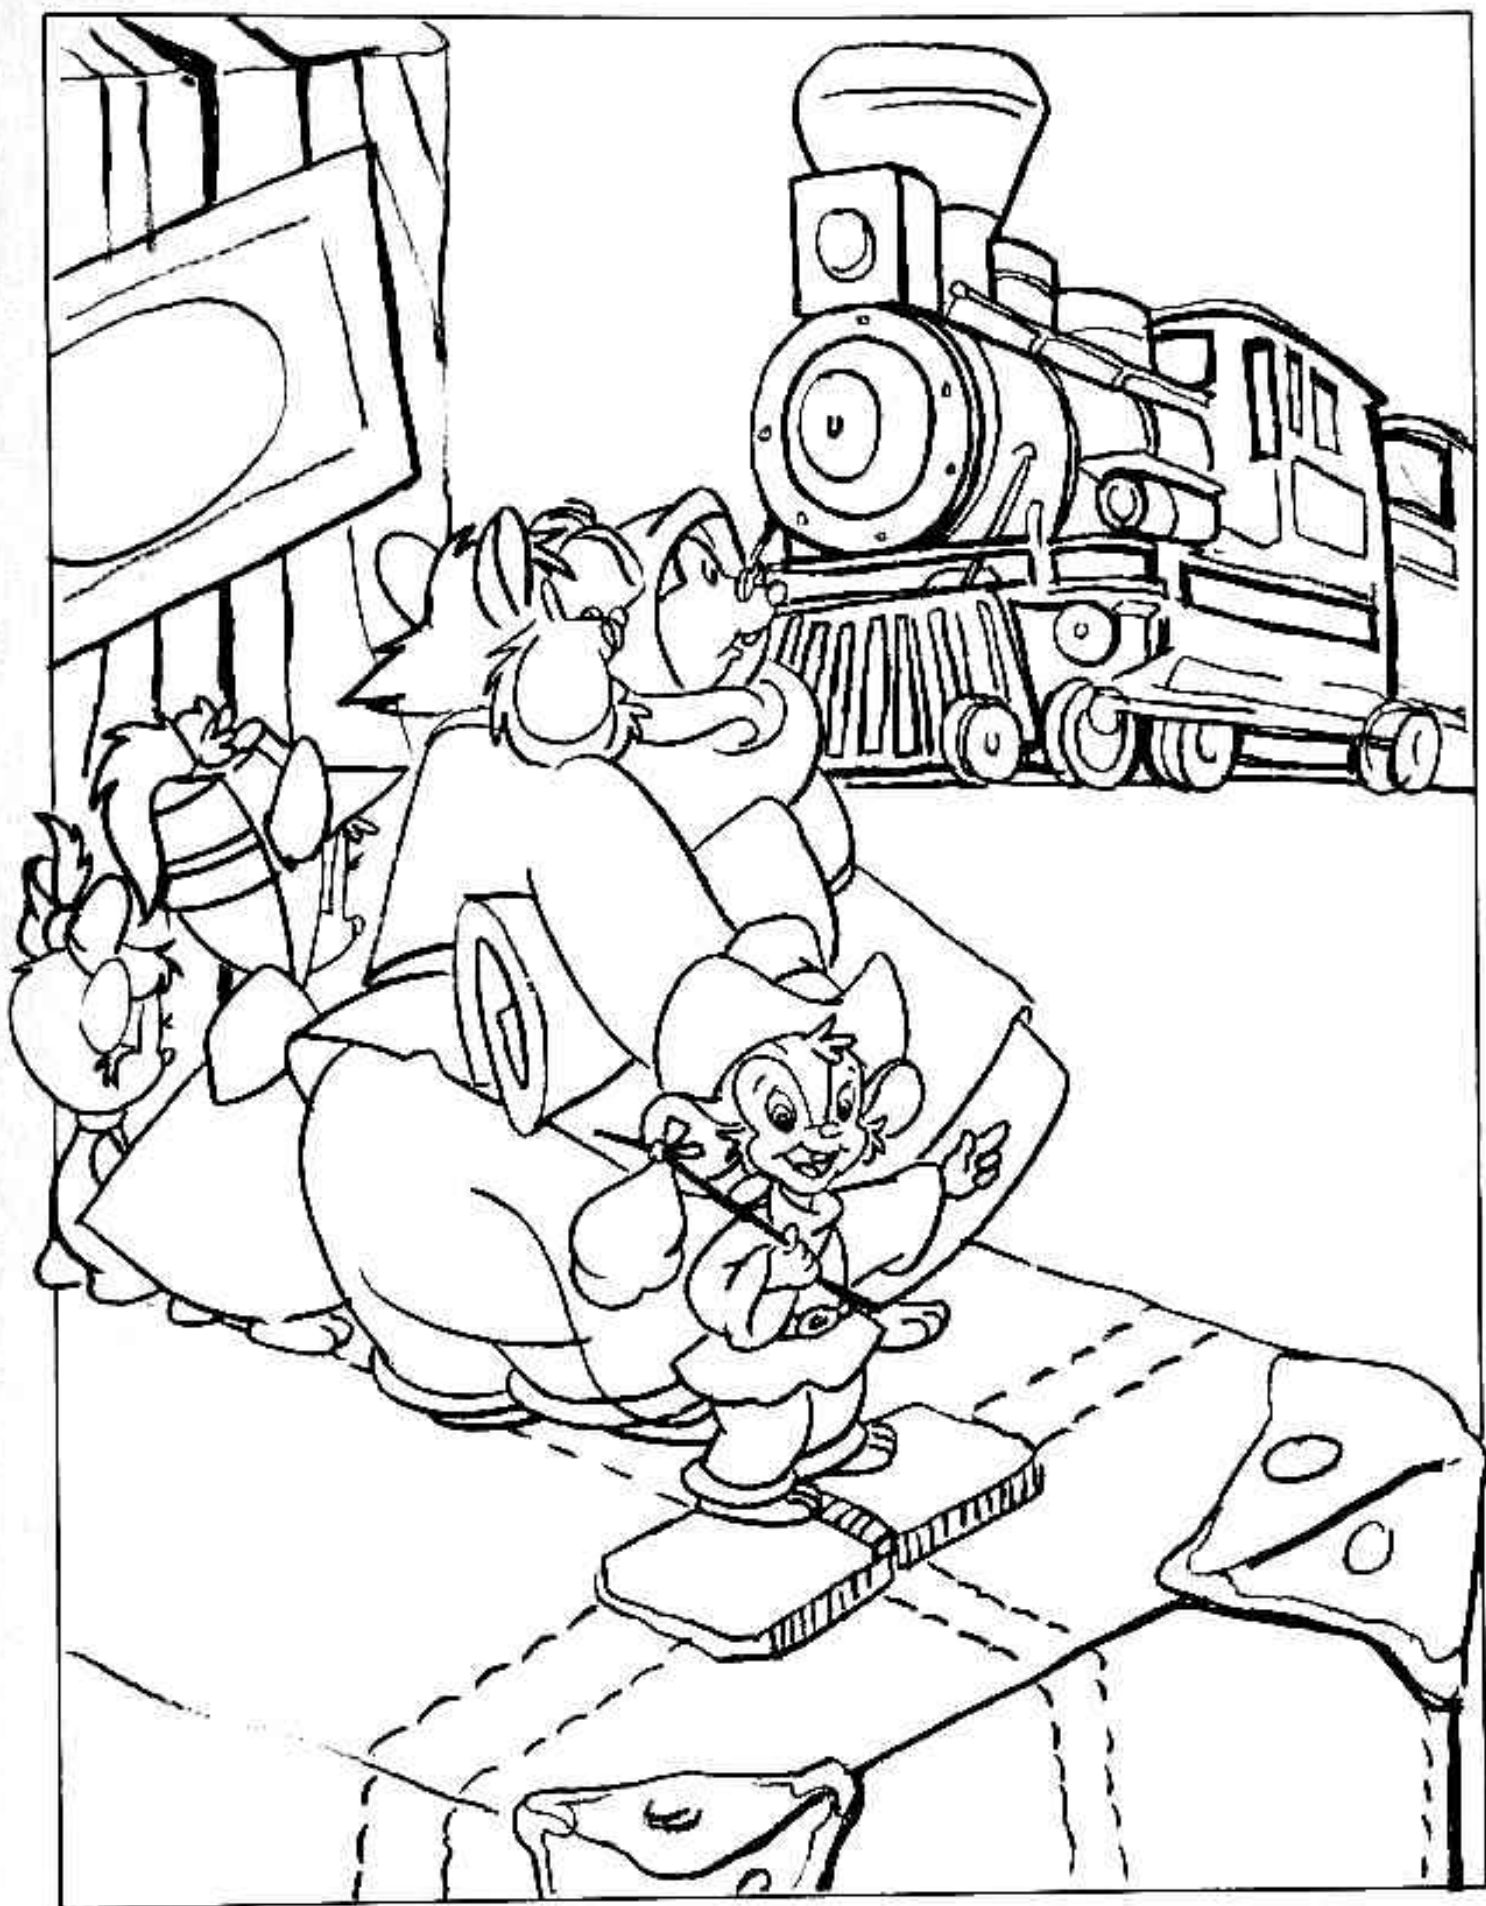

The Mousekewitzes hop into a tuna-can boat and ride through the city sewers.

They meet a cowboy mouse with train tickets.
But the mouse is really a puppet—and the evil
Cat R. Waul is pulling its strings!

The Mousekewitz family hurries to the train station.
“Hooray!” says Fievel. “We’re going out West!”

Toot toot!

All aboard for Green River!

Walking along a high beam, Fievel explores the train.

"Hey! I know you," he says to the cowboy mouse.

Right below Fievel, the Cat R. Waul Gang plays cards and talks over their wicked plans.

“When we get to Green River,” explains Cat R. Waul,
“the mice will help us build their own mousetrap.
It will look like an outdoor stage!”

“Aha!” says Cat R. Waul. He has spotted Fievel.

Fievel runs away!

"I'll catch him," Chula says.

Chula throws Fievel off the train.

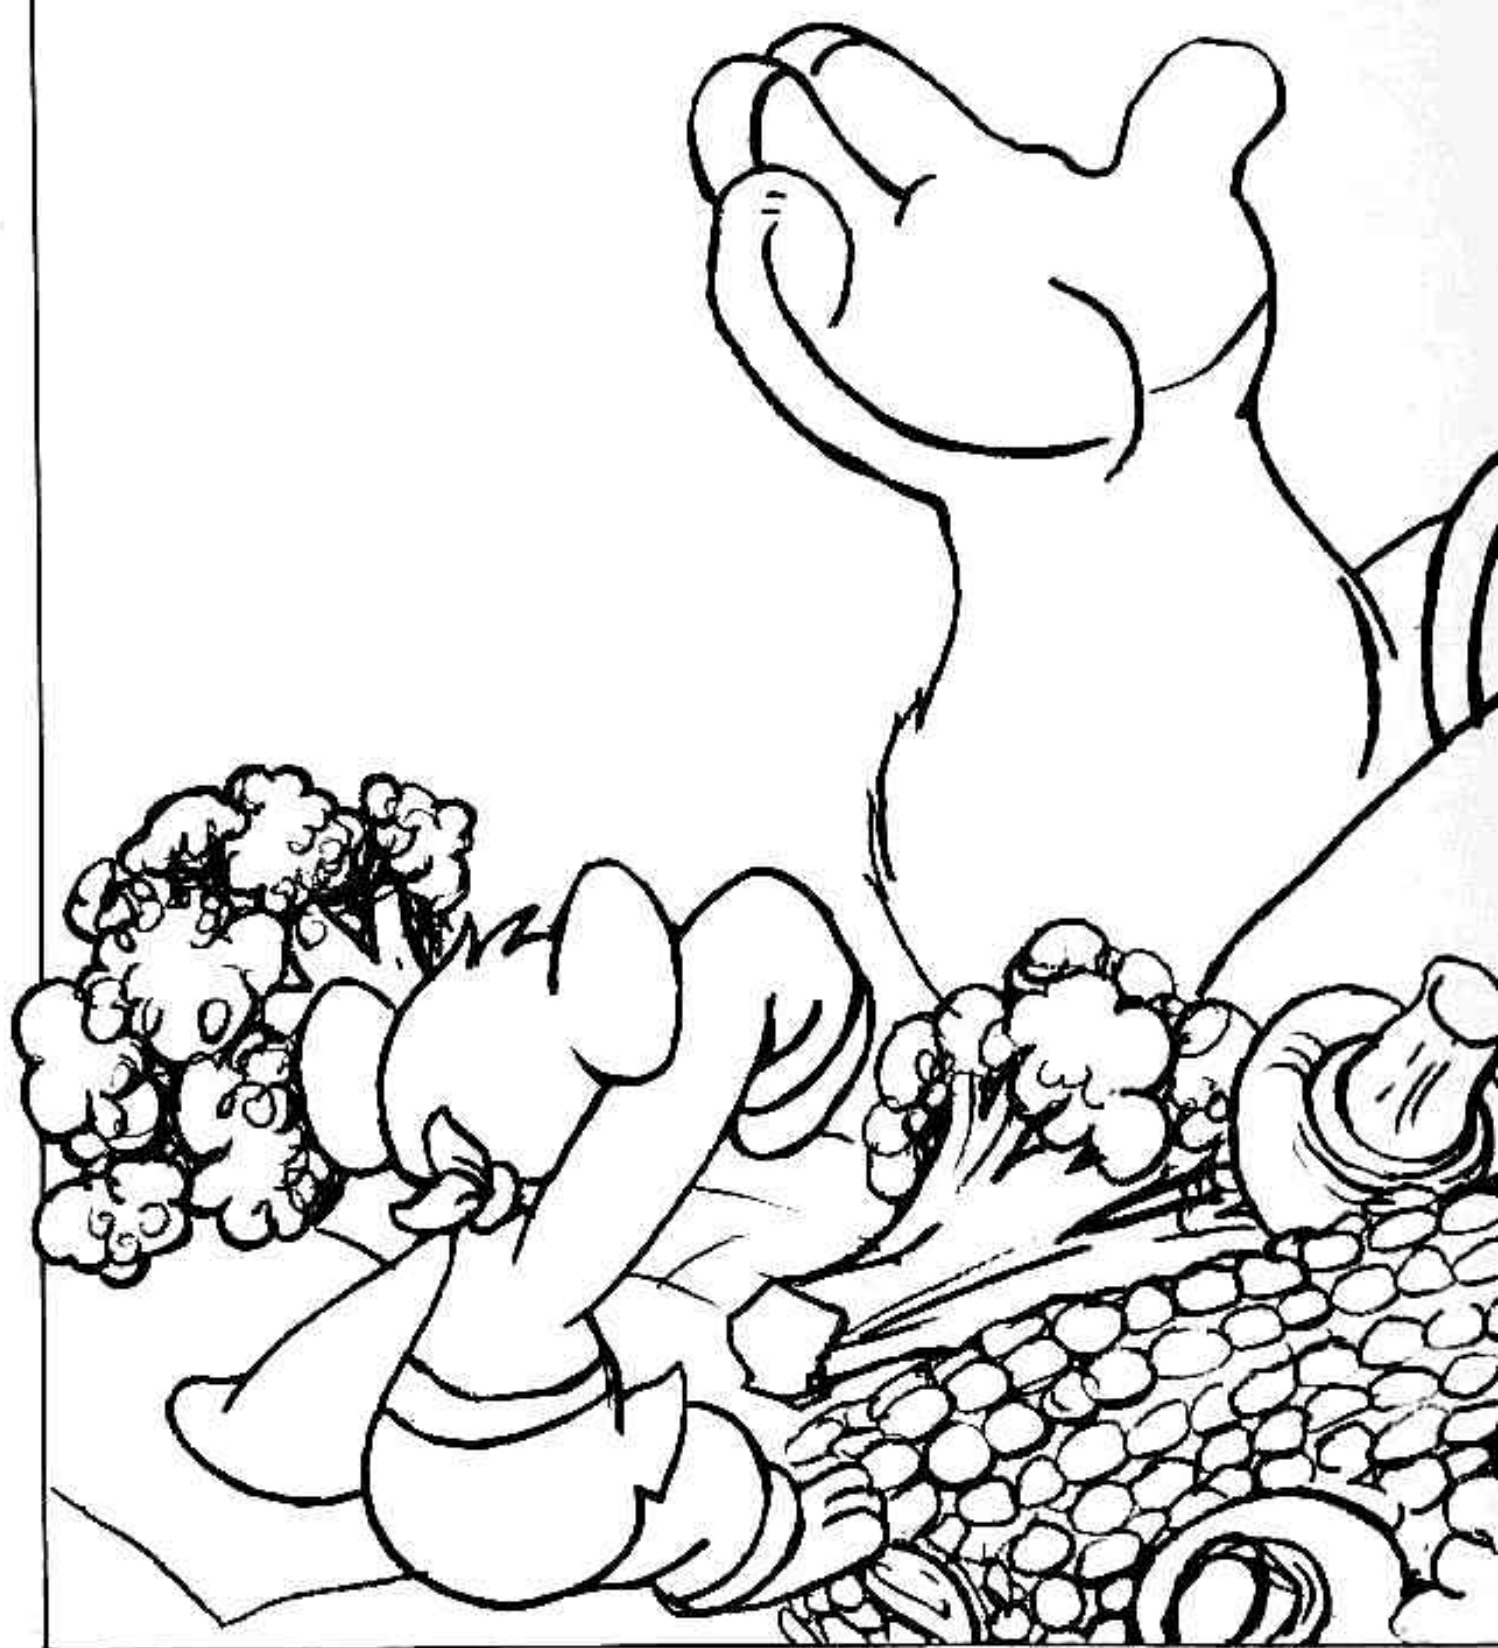

"Help!" calls the little mouse.
He is all alone in the desert.

Whoosh! A giant hawk swoops down and carries Fievel away.

Plop! The hawk drops Fievel into something mushy.

“Hi, Fievel,” says Tiger. “What are you doing in my dinner?”
The friendly cat followed Fievel out West!

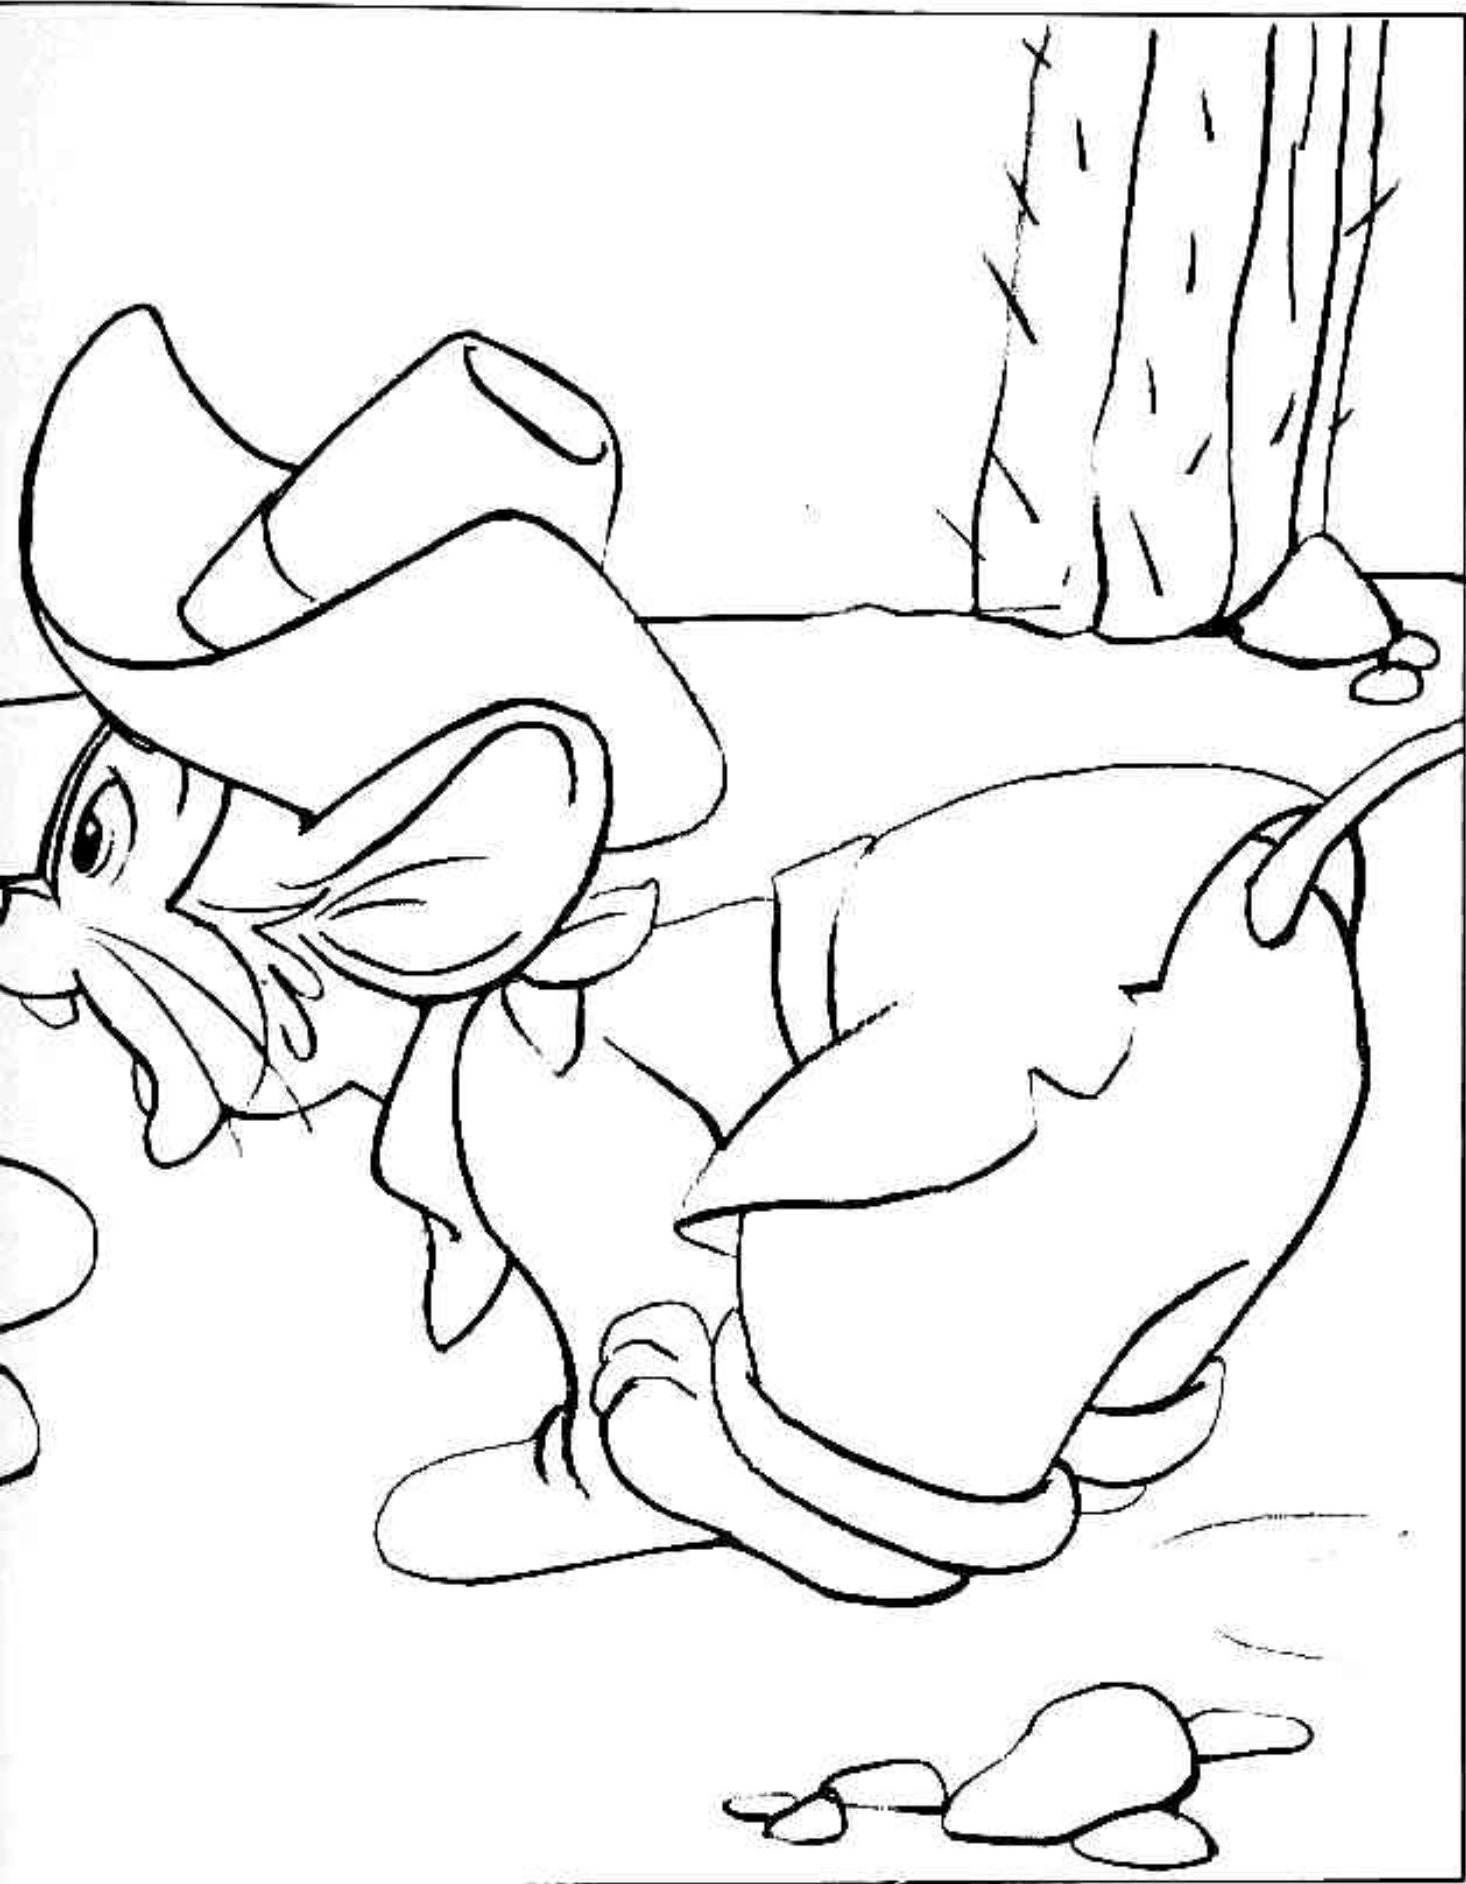

Fievel hurries to Green River. He sees cats and mice building a theater.

But Fievel knows the stage is really a mousetrap!

The little mouse runs through the streets of Green River looking for Wylie Burp.

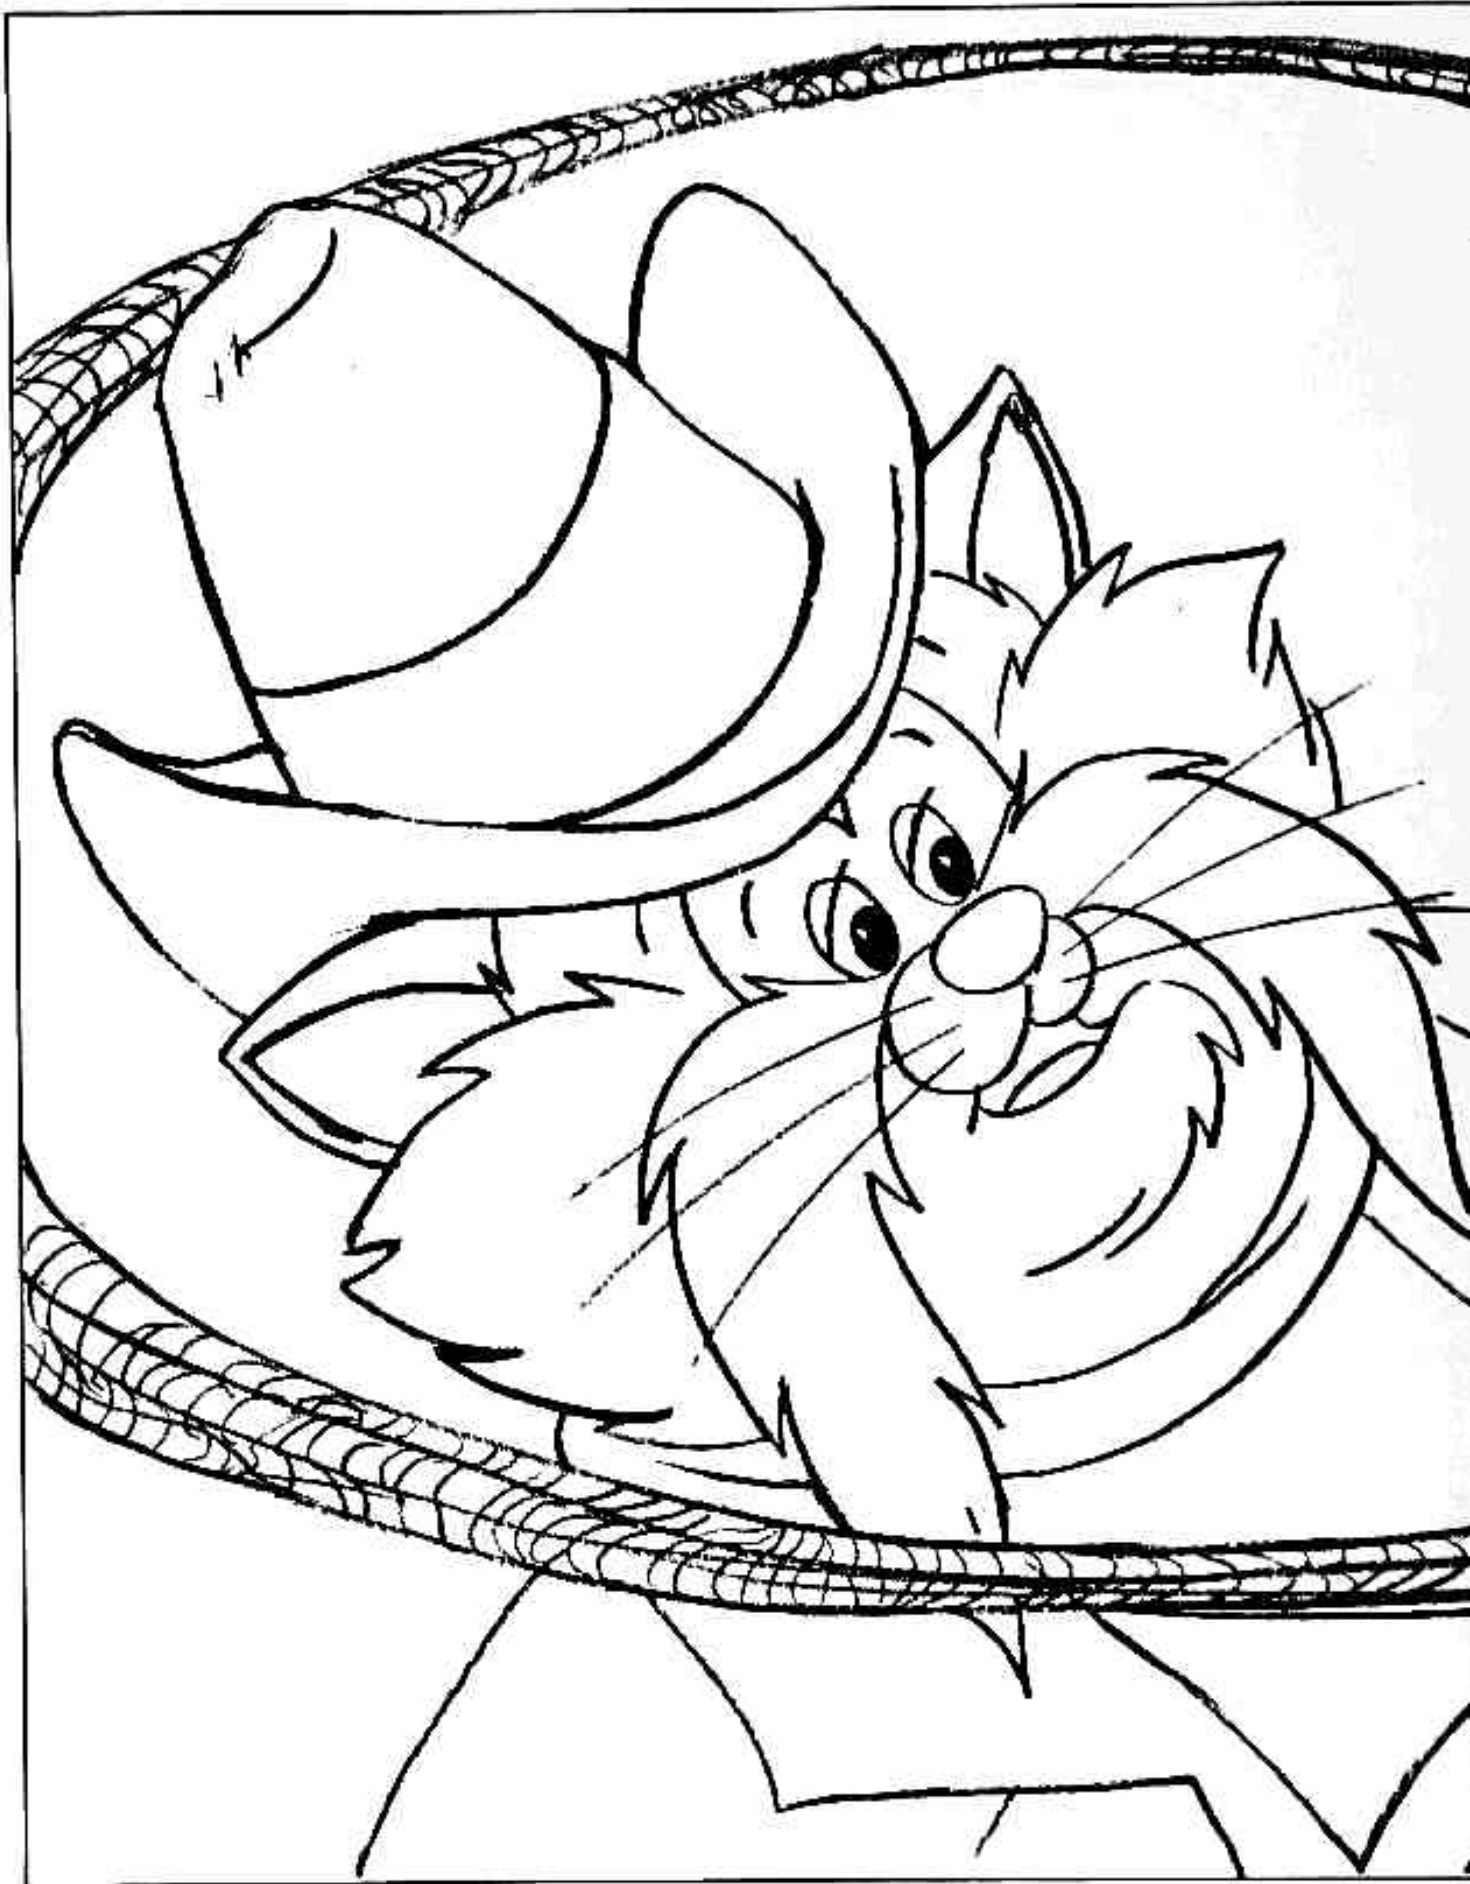

"Sheriff Burp!" cries Fievel. "I need you."

“Come on, Sheriff! Come on, Tiger,” says Fievel.

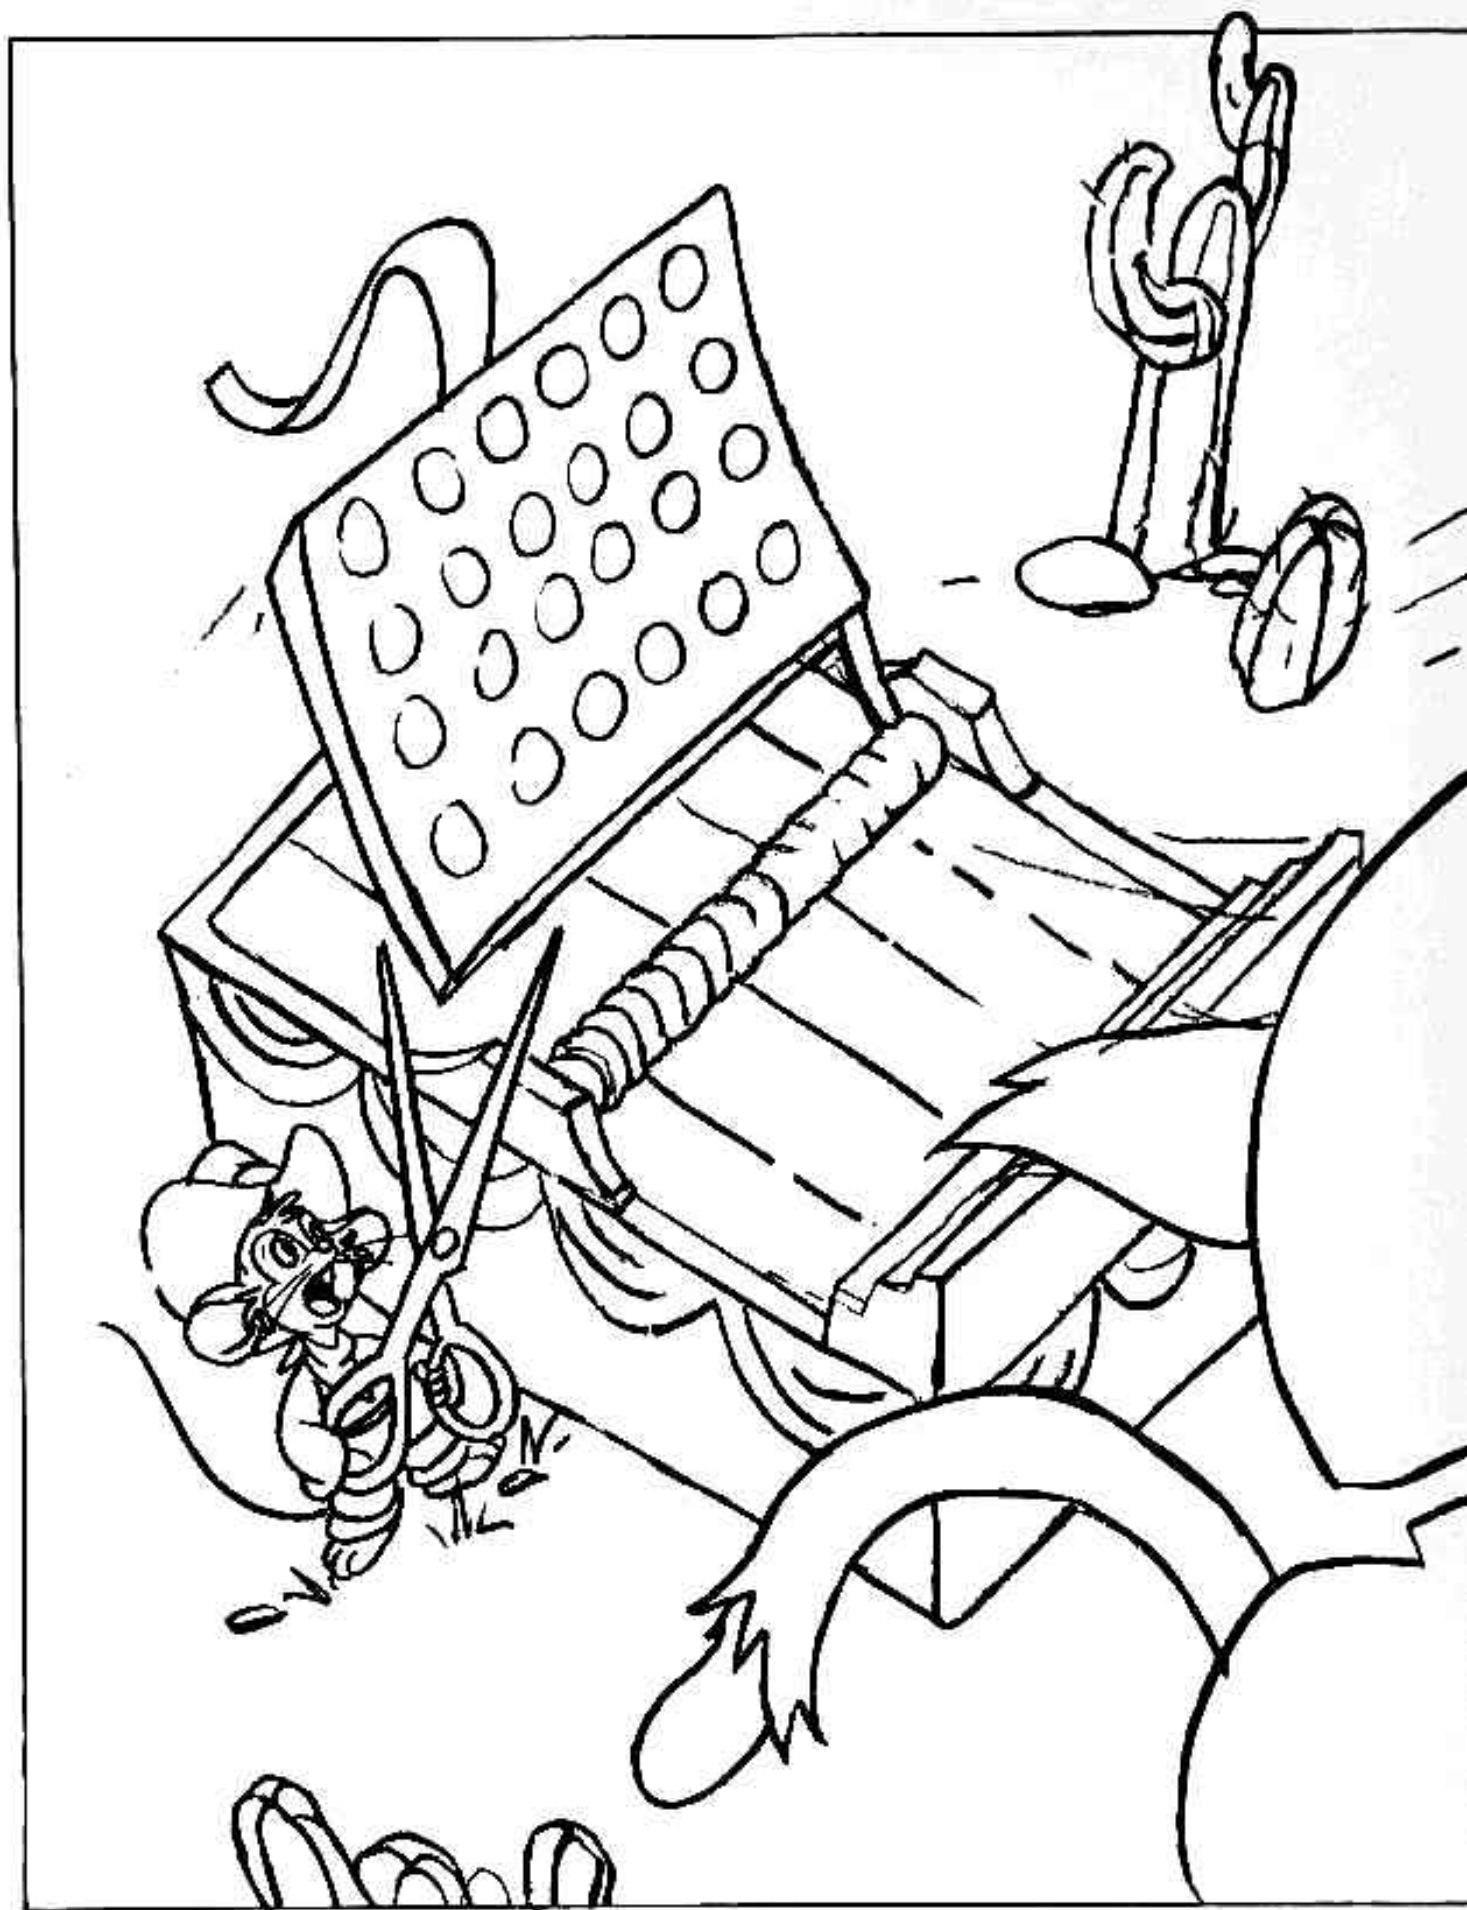

“Cat R. Waul is about to cut the ribbon and trap the mice in their seats!”

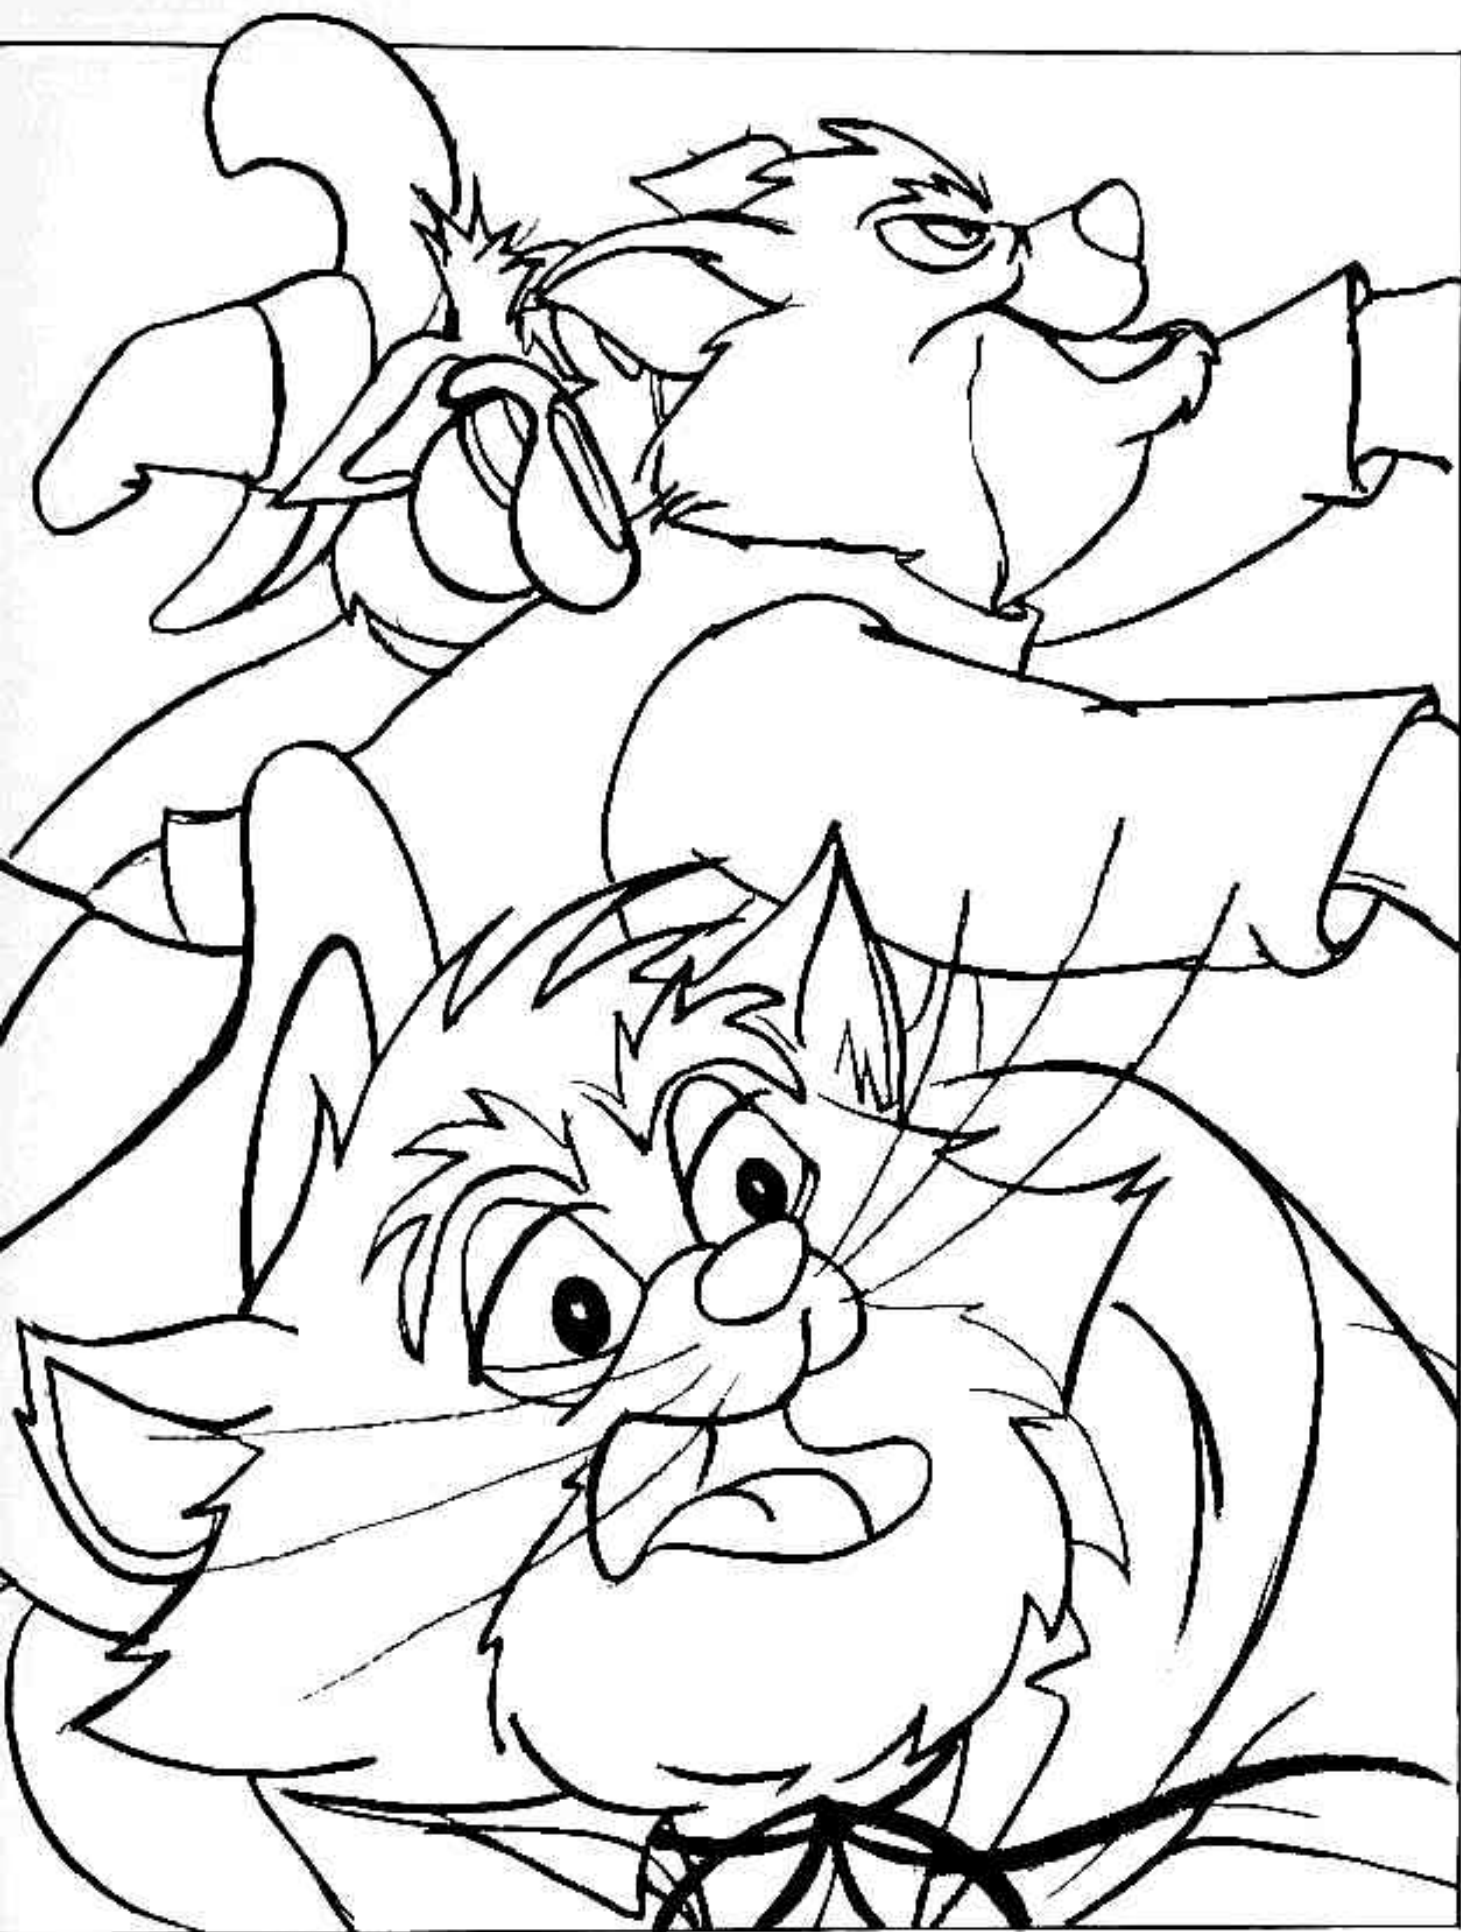

Tiger swings Chula and all the cats around and around.

One by one, they land on the stage while the frightened mice run away.

Snap! Fievel cuts the ribbon.

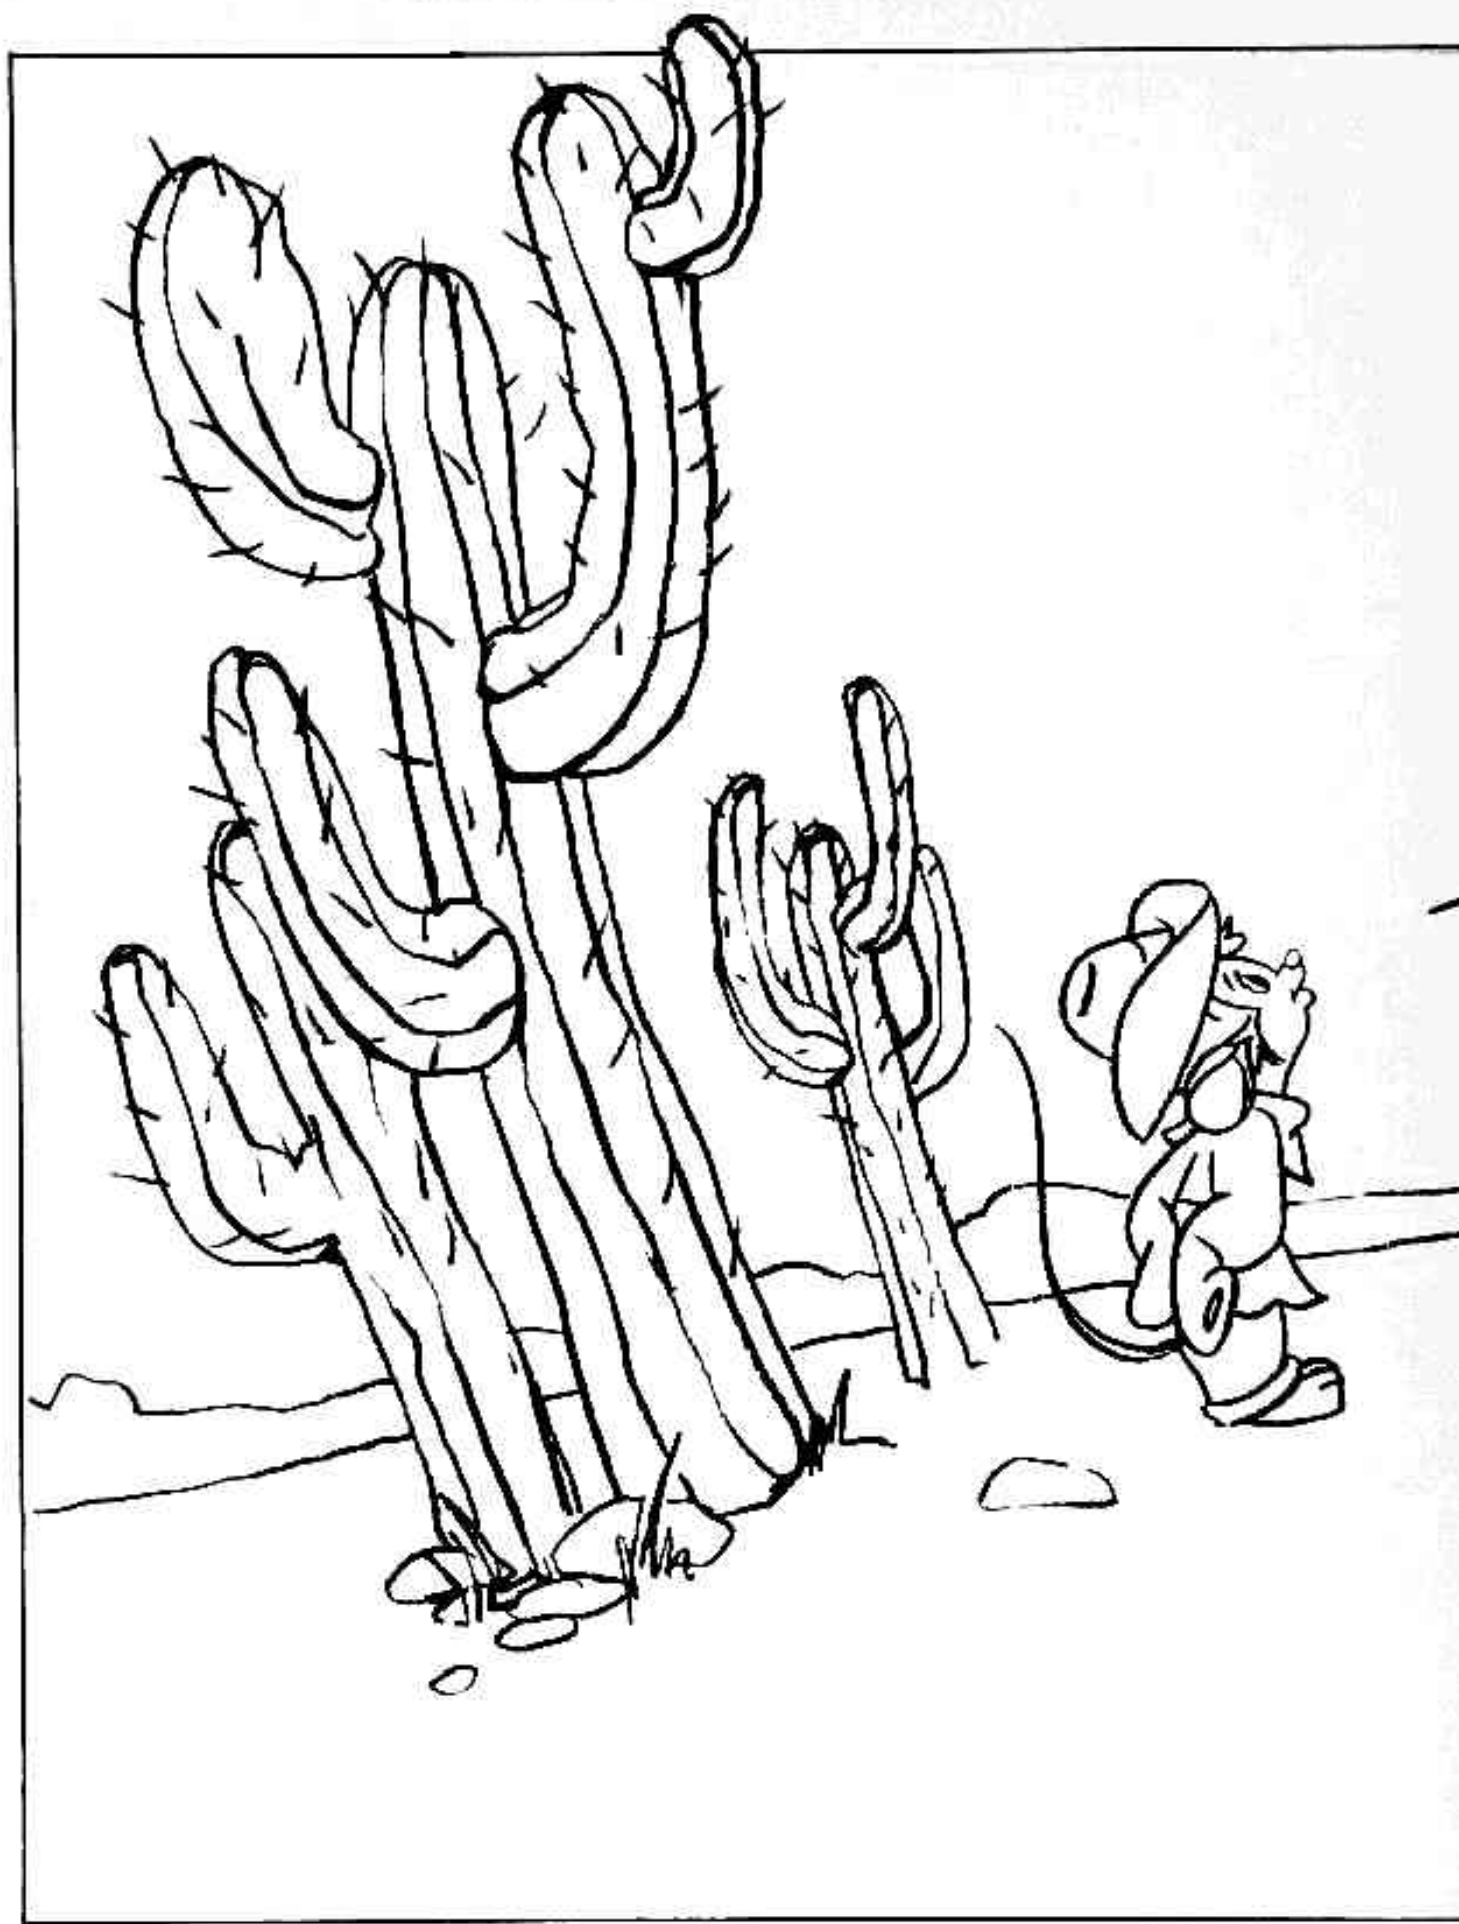

The cats are flung high into the air.

“Yowl!” say the cats. They land in a mailbag.

Toot toot! A mail train rushes past and whisks away the evil Cat R. Waul Gang—forever!

"You're a hero," Sheriff Wylie tells Fievel.

“A real Western hero!” says Papa. “Hooray for Fievel!”

AN AMERICAN TAIL FIEVEL GOES WESTTM

Coloring books full of favorite characters and action scenes for kids of all ages to color!

HOWDY, FIEVEL!
FIEVEL AND TANYA
GO WEST, YOUNG MOUSE
MEET THE MOUSEKEWITZES

ISBN 0-448-40244-0

Grosset & Dunlap